1. An infantry regiment has been established in the new barracks at Szekszárd. It is divided into the usual three battalions with mortar, AP and accompanying gun units, all motorized. In addition to the cars belonging to the special weapons companies the regiment has four or five personnel cars, 10 or 12 trucks and eight or 10 motorcycles.
2. The commander of the regimental training unit is Lt. Lukács László, about 28 years old, a very well liked officer.
3. Since June 1953 the regiment has been in a camp at Duna-tető, about eight km east of Szekszárd, on the Danube. This "Large camp" was connected by means of a military bridge with the "Small camp" on the eastern bank, where there were about three battalions of engineers from Budapest and Baja.
4. The Szekszárd regiment makes an exercise march once a month to Ócsény, where battle exercises are carried out with troops from the south.
5. There are no Soviet troops in Szekszárd.
